INCREASED CAPACITY & CONVENIENCE

Simple, elegant lockers optimize space and eliminate lost keys

Scandinave Spa Blue Mountain is a Nordic-style spa that emulates the experience of a hot springs. By providing a unique hydrotherapy experience, the spa combines age-old thermal tradition with cutting-edge facilities, contemporary design, and natural integrations.

The spa had two outdated change rooms with key-operated lockers. When the keys frequently went missing, the spa would lose access to the lockers. This diminished the spa's capacity to serve guests, which in turn resulted in decreased revenue.

The spa's management team reached out to the local Spacesaver consultant in hopes of creating a better system to manage the change rooms. They worked together with Spacesaver to create a system that not only looks beautiful and eliminates the need for keys, but that also adds 80 locker openings to the same space.

The two-tiered lockers feature a steel structure finished with sleek high-pressure laminate doors. Each locker has an engineered-to-order RFID lock that works with branded Scandinave Spa wristbands. Patrons simply choose an empty locker to use, close the door, and place their wristband against the RFID panel to lock it. To open their locker, they once again place their wristband against the RFID lock and the door pops open. If patrons forget which locker is theirs, they can scan their wristbands at an RFID information terminal in the locker room and the screen will display their locker number.

Because the spa was able to add 80 additional lockers, and because they eliminated the costs of replacing locks and lost keys, they expect the lockers to pay for themselves in less than a year. The change rooms are also better integrated with the rest of the spa's clean, natural look and feel.
